

Embracing the New, the Unknown

We are here with you Now and Forever. For What Is, is not always as it seems. It is often deeper with meaning than what you can see on the surface. So why don't you look deeper into What Is? You often don't or won't allow yourself to look deeper for fear what you discover may scare you or that it is unbelievable. Of course it may be unbelievable, but only because it is New. All things that are not known are New. How else could your world have grown if not for those who were not afraid of the Unknown, of what was New, of what was undiscovered?

All of you are here at this time, capable of discovering the "New" that can change your world for eons to come. But in order to do so you must open up to and be more at ease with the New, the Unknown, even the unthinkable. It is important in this time of great change that you begin to alter the paradigm of how you see the New. Make the Unknown your friend. Learn to embrace the New like never before.

If you limit yourself to what you know, you cannot grow and expand. You are all capable of growing and discovering that which can change Life forever. In so doing you can change what was, what is and of course what CAN be.

It is within your grasp and yet you are afraid. You say "who me, I am but so small compared to others who are smarter, more powerful and more connected". And We say to you, that is the place to begin to shift this paradigm that prevents you and others who have the potential to bring great New to your world. Start, begin to let go of the old limiting beliefs that keep you small and instead connect to your multidimensionality. For in your multidimensionality you will come to know your True Potential.

You are afraid because it is New. But why? Because it is Unknown? And yet every minute of every day you walk forth into the Unknown. Often you walk timidly, but often you walk with great gusto and enthusiasm. What determines the state with which you walk into the New, the Unknown? It is what your mind tells you. And what your mind tells you has been determined by what you were taught, what you experienced, your personal history. But unfortunately your cautious mind keeps you small. You tread lightly unless you feel the path is familiar, but what you don't realize is that no matter how familiar the path ahead seems, you are still moving into the New, the Unknown. You just think you need your mind to tell you it is safe to proceed.

What if you were to consider a different way of proceeding forward into the New, the Unknown? We say proceeding forward because you live in the place of linear time. The past is gone, the future is what approaches. Of course for Us, all is the Now. So for Us We do not recognize the Unknown, for

We always see what is over the hill. However, We never know how you will respond to what is coming your way because you live in the place of free choice. That is what makes it so interesting for Us. To watch on with love as you choose how you will respond to the New, the Unknown that comes your way.

But what if We told you that the road ahead is not created by someone or something else, but by you. Of course you have been told this many times and intellectually you may understand this. Yet you still react to the New, the Unknown as if you did not have the power to control it. You have not yet totally integrated the concept of you and only you creating your future with the Laws of Creation.

By reacting, by responding as you do to the New, the Unknown, you forget you control what is ahead. It is your reaction and your response that actually brings forth creation. Feelings Create. You take too literally when We say you have the Power to create your future. When something unexpected pops up you are surprised, you often respond with shock. You say "I did not ask for this. I wouldn't have created this situation. This happened because I am not in control". But that is not the case. This happened so you could learn, so you could grow. So you could learn to harness the Power of Creation. So you could grow in your ability to create what you choose. It happened so you could learn the Laws of Creation, but instead you take too literally how you think creation works.

This can change when you learn to accept the New, the Unknown without anxiousness, without anticipation, without expectation, without fear, without anxiety and without trepidation. When you learn to welcome each and every New thing that comes your way you will realize that you are capable of creating all that you desire. When you learn to embrace and welcome the Unknown, realizing, finally realizing, you are capable of handling Every and We repeat Every thing that comes your way that is New and Unknown.

When you stop being shocked, surprised, astonished, terrified, and afraid of the New that comes your way, then you will realize it is You and only You who is in control of your Life. You will come to realize that your response to the New is what creates your future and you always have the choice in how you respond to what comes your way. As you come to welcome with a greater sense of KNOWING, a greater sense of confidence that nothing that comes your way from the New, from the Unknown, can hurt you unless You and we repeat You, give permission for that to be the case.

So when you learn to relax and accept with greater ease the Unknown, the New that is coming your way each and every moment of each and every day, then you will come to know that it is you who creates your Life. It is time to take your Power back. Make friends with the New, the Unknown. Come to have the utmost of confidence that you will navigate all the New that is coming your way in each and every "future, upcoming" moment.

Know It and It Shall Be So.

We bring you this message with Love. We share it with you because We know you are ready to truly understand and begin to practice it. For as more of you do so, your world will begin to change in a big way. No longer will others hold Power over you, no longer will others be able to control you. You will have come of age, so to speak. You will Know Who You Truly Are and why you have come forth in this monumental time in human history, in this time of Great Potential.

The future of your world is in your hands, yes in all your hands. Begin to take back your Power to create the world that you desire. Begin to seize the Power that has been taken from you by fear, by darkness, and by those who wanted to control you, who wanted to keep you small. Now is the Time. With this new understanding of how you can embrace the New, the Unknown you can change your life and in so doing the Life of your entire planet.

We are here for you anytime you wish to converse with Us. Simply enter a state of stillness and peace and We shall appear. Our love for you is everlasting and unconditional.
